SAC Issues Charters To 19 Campus Clubs

By John Zacharias

Nineteen clubs received their charters at Tuesday's S. A.C. meeting. Other major items of business included setting the ticket price for the George Shearing concert, approval of a S.A.E. proposal for a Cal Poly Safety Economy run, approval of El Mustang editor and two members of the awards committee.

The clubs receiving charters included Wesley Fellowship, Ski Club, Poly Players, Social Science Club, Poly Corinthians, Home Economics Club, Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, Lutheran Student Association, Colonial House Club, Christian Science Organization, Osondallers, Volkswagen Club, and the Physical Science Club. The Los Lecheros dairy club also received their charter which would have been presented earlier in the year except that some corrections were required.

A slight controversy resulted when the College Union asked that the student ticket price for the George Shearing concert be raised from 50 cents to $1. This raise was necessary, they maintained, in order to pay for the cost of the concert which is a $1,000 expenditure. A motion setting the price

Tool Engineers Offer Scholarships

For the ninth consecutive year the American Society of Tool Engineers will again sponsor an International Education Awards program for engineering students interested in pursuing tool and production engineering as a profession. This year twenty scholarships totaling $11,000 will be awarded, ten at the college and university level, and ten to students attending junior colleges and technical institutes.

In making the announcement, ASTE Executive Secretary Harry E. Conrad said, "No force in industry today offers greater challenge to the young engineer—or greater opportunities for advancement, than manufacturing. The growing complexity of space age manufacturing due to the introduction of countless new products, new materials, new methods and radically new approaches to our production problems, has presented industry with a pressing demand for the Tool Engineer expertly trained in the "know-how" of modern manufacturing."

College or university engineers as a profession and who have completed their freshman and sophomore years, may apply for one of ten $700 scholarships. Juniors may apply for their senior year, and seniors for a year of graduate study. Technical institute and junior college students are offered ten Awards of $400 each to further their second year studies of such subjects as metal processing, plant layout, tool design and development, inspection and quality control, and manufacturing processes.

Application forms have been sent to the Deans of 400 engineering schools. Selection of winners will be made by the ASTE National Education Committee early in March. Grants will be made effective beginning in the autumn of the 1959-60 school year, and will be paid directly to the institution, on a quarterly or semester basis. The student must maintain satisfactory grades to receive the balance of the allotted Award.

Whirl Your Girl At the CU Dance

"Fresno Frolic," the second record dance of the winter quarter, will be held tomorrow night in the T.C.U. after the Fresno game. The College Union is sponsoring the dance, with Dick Streeter, chairman of the dance committee, in charge.

Special entertainment for the dance, which will last from 9 to 12 p. m., will be toasting marshmallows over an open fire in the T. C. U. fireplace.

Eight Coeds Leave To Student Teach

Eight senior Home Economics majors have begun their student teaching in nearby schools.

At Santa Maria are Nancy Parsons Galloway, Connie Brexzeale, Margaret Reimer and Sue Reed. The girls will be working with "co-operating teachers," Mrs. Sara Thomas, Mrs. Marjorie Springer and Mrs. Elizabeth Denison.

"Our student teachers take no courses on campus this quarter and receive 12 units for their full time devotion to their teaching," said Miss Marjory Elliot, Home Economics Department head and College Supervisor of the program. They have been assisting their "co-operating teachers" since Jan. 6, and will continue until March 18.

Vincent Vosse and Ruth Cavender are at Arroyo Grande under the guidance of co-operating teacher, Miss Gregorita Pena. Leora Esler and Pauline Star have journeyed to Lompoc where they will be under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Canfield.

All of the co-operating teachers were enrolled in a supervision class here during the fall quarter. At that time a manual, Home-making Student Teachers and Co-operating Schools, was compiled by the above teachers and Lavern Gayman, R.O. Home Ec instructor. "It is a guide and form of evaluation for the practice teacher, emphasizing her role in the school plus her own objectives," concludes Miss Elliot.

★ ★ A Proclamation ★ ★

"Religion In Life Week" is hereby proclaimed to be observed January 18-22 on the San Luis Obispo campus of California State Polytechnic College. This special period of spiritual emphasis, which now seems to have made a place for itself among the traditions of the college, is a welcome phase of Cal Poly's education for citizenship. A resident campus which is the home of most graduates for a full 36 months during their college days has a special need for an event such as this to help assure that spiritual values find their ample and proper place in our living.

Dairy Department Qualifies for Breeders' Register

For the ninth straight year the Dairy Husbandry department here has qualified for the Progressive Breeders Registry Award of the American Holstein-Friesian Association. This is the highest award granted by the Association.

Out of a herd of 50 Cal Poly cows which were registered in August for the Progressive Breeder's Registry, 47 had freshened and 38 of these were bred here. In order to receive this award the herd must make an average of 18,000 pounds of milk and 800 lbs. of butterfat. Cal Poly cows gave an average of 18,881 lbs. of milk and 694 lbs. of butterfat per cow.

Average classification score of the Cal Poly herd was 88.8. A herd must make a minimum average classification score of 81 to qualify for the award.

The awards are based on production, type and health, the latter requirement including freedom from tuberculosis and brucellosis.

Seniors Sit For Photos Next Week

All students expecting to graduate in March, June, or during the summer should have their photographs taken next week for El Rodon.

Since a complete list of seniors was not available, many seniors have NOT been notified through the mail this week. If you have NOT received a notice, simply drop by the old power plant (across from the handball court) anytime from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. or 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. during the evening any day next week.

Men should wear a white shirt and tie, women should wear a dark sweater.

It's free, and it only takes five minutes.

Group Sets RILW Slate; Seminars Begin Monday

Have you ever wondered what part religion plays in the life of a college student? An attempt will be made to answer this question during Cal Poly's third annual Religion In Life Week, January 18-22. Highlighting the week will be the Reverend Norman L. Conrad speaking at an assembly to be held during college hour in the A.C. Aud. He will talk on "New Gods for Old".

Reside classroom seminars conducted by six eminent men in the field of religion, and the assembly, on-and-off campus clubs and organizations will have RILW speakers as special guests. The schedule is as follows:

MONDAY: 6:30 p.m., The Rev. Don Deffner, Kiwanis, "Place of the Individual in Today's Culture"; Anderson Hotel; 4:10 p.m., Dr. Marc J. Smith, Dorm Managers, "Religion in Dorm Life," South Cafeteria.

TUESDAY: 8 p.m., Dr. Paul De Ville, Cal Poly Women's Club, Books and Music Section, "What Goes Into a Religious Historical Novel," Hillcrest Cottage; 7:30 p.m., Rabbi Julian F. Feingold, Poultry Club, "Kosher Methods of Food Preparation," 7:30 p.m., Dr. Marc J. Smith, Baptist Women's Missionary Society and Girls' Guild, "What Young People Face Going to College," Baptist Church.

WEDNESDAY: 7 p.m., Dr. Marc J. Smith, School of Religion Class, "How is the Sermon on the Mount Intended To Be Used?," Wesley Building; 8:00 p.m., Pastor Don Deffner, Cal Poly Women's Club, Foreign Student Section, "Religion and the Foreign Student."

THURSDAY: 7 p.m., Dr. Marc Smith, OSTA, "The Place of Religion and Ethics in Education," Adm. Bldg; 7:30 p.m., Dr. Paul De Ville, English Club, "What Goes Into a Religious Historical Novel?," 8 p.m., The Reverend Norman L. Conrad, Methodist Women's Group, Methodist Church, Morro and Pacific.

Students living in dorms will have a chance to meet and become better acquainted with some of the speakers during "Bull Sessions" to be held in a few of the dorms. All college students are welcome to participate in these discussions.

Students Warned Of Library Rules

Responsibilities in use of the library were outlined today by Mrs. Dorothy S. Wright, head of the public services department, for the benefit of students new to the college this quarter.

"It is your responsibility to return books on or before the last date due stamped in the book," Mrs. Wright said.

"The loan period is generous. Stamps are set every Monday for the third Monday following, so the loan period is never less than two weeks except at the end of the quarter when all books are due," she commented.

She explained that courtesy notices of reminder are sent out, but failure to receive notices is insufficient reason for failure to return books.

The library does not charge fines for the late return of books, however, penalties may be imposed as follows:

A $2.00 penalty for failure to keep an administrative appointment, the specified deadline for return of overdue books.

The withdrawal of library privileges and an unfavorable report to instructors or department heads.

Failure to return all materials at the close of the quarter will result in the attachment of transcript and a "hold" on permit to register the following quarter until the infraction is cleared.

For lost books, an additional service charge (state requirement) of $1.00 is added to the replacement cost of each book lost.

"The Library attempts to be as generous as possible in assisting students and in loaning books, as to number and renewal. Regulations are made in order to facilitate the best possible service to the greatest number," she concluded.

Gaucha Charges Tabbed Ridiculous

By Dave Kempf
Editor, El Mustang

Cal Poly officials blasted the University of California at Santa Barbara today after hearing of an accusation by the Gaucha school that Cal Poly had used illegal protective equipment in the football game last fall. The accusation came after the college newspaper claimed that a hard arm cast had been found in the Cal Poly dressing room after the game. University officials are reported holding an investigation to determine if this cast was used in the game.

Coach LeRoy B. Hughes, Cal Poly head coach and athletic director, is today presenting an affidavit to Chancellor Samuel B. Gould, signed by Dr. Am James, Poly team physician, explaining the use of a sponge rubber and tape protection on Guard Willie Hudson's arm.

Dr. James, who has served as team physician for more than two years, said, "In the case of Willie Hudson and the fractured arm, I personally took off the old cast in the Santa Barbara dressing room,

BEFORE the game. I replaced it with what is considered legal binding of plastic and adhesive tape, as the fracture was a simple, undisplaced one. I considered this adequate protection for the arm.

"Further, I placed a new cast on the arm after the game," he said.

The team physician said Hudson, a stand-out guard for the Mustangs in 1958, broke his wrist in the San Jose game. "After that game," he said, "it was necessary for us to go through the procedure mentioned for each

Mustangs Meet Hornets In Boxing Debut Tonight

Sacramento State, fresh from a victory over College of Idaho, invades Crandall gym tonight at 8 p.m. to meet Coach Tom Lee's untested boxers. Sacramento placed fifth in the NCAA tourney last winter and is expected to be pushing for a national championship this season.

The Hornets of Hank Klespuru boast two of the finest boxers in the country in Terry Smith and Jim Flood. Flood is a two-time NCAA champ. He annexed the 156-pound title in 1957 and is defending 165-pound titlist. The Mustang mentor indicated he would send football-playing full-back Ray Porras against Flood.

In Smith the Hornets have, Lee feels, "an good a boxer as you'll see either in the college ranks or in the pros." The 156-pounder is an ex-service champion, a diamond belt titlist and was disqualified from the 1958 NCAA's because of a technicality. He did, however, win the PCI title at 156 pounds prior to the nationals.

Poly's ring squad, which went 2-3-1 on the last year, is green this year but Lee expects to have them a "serious threat" by tournament time in March.

"We have strength in the middle weights," the Poly coach said, "but the lower weights are marred by inexperience as is the heavyweight division." Lee has four lettermen in the 132-pound Bob Alvarez, 147 pound Sam Marques, 159-pound Walt Halley, and 176-pound Don Tessler.

Halley is the 1958 NCAA runner up, and each of the other numeral winners, with last season behind him, should surprise onlookers this year. Tom Sherman, a 147-pound novice champion, looks the most promising of the newcomers while service-experienced Freddy Martin, 156 pounds, is expected to make big impression on fans and foe alike this year.

Because the 1959 schedule is such a toughie—the Leemen meet the top five college boxing teams in the country—the Mustang mentor predicts by March the locals will be ready to cause tense moments for the opposition. "Top-flight competition makes a veteran of a new man in short order," Lee says.

Stanford's Football Coach Highlights Summer Workshop

Jack Curtice, Stanford's head football coach, will direct the football activities during the twelfth annual California Workshop for Physical Education and Athletic Coaching to be held Aug. 3-14 at Cal Poly.

Curtice will join other workshop staffers: George Wolfman, California baseball coach; George Ziegenfuss, San Diego State basketball coach, and Peyton Jordan, Stanford track coach.

Chairman of the workshop is Glenn DuBose, director of Physical Education for the Napa public schools. College representatives on the workshop committee are Robert Kennedy, dean of Arts and Sciences; Dr. Bob Mott, director of Physical Education, and John Healy of the Agricultural Journalism Department.

The PE workshop for women in secondary schools is scheduled for Aug. 9-21 at Cal Poly with Dr. Jean Hodgkins of the University of California, Santa Barbara, highlighting the program. Chairman of the women's workshop is Elaine Mason of Fresno State college.

Wanted! Thinclads!

The Call is out for trackmen! Coach Jim Jensen announced today that students interested in turning out for track to contact him in his office in the gymnasium or on the track after 5:30 p.m.

Cal Poly's Ed Murakami was second in the 112 pound class in the NCAA boxing championships last year. Walt Halley also took a second at 147 pounds.

Intersectional Games On 1959 Grid Schedules

A nine-game 1959 Cal Poly football schedule was announced today by Leroy Hughes, athletic director and head football coach.

Three intersectional games are listed—Montana State, Eastern New Mexico and Lewis and Clark college.

The season will open Sept. 19 in Poly stadium against San Diego University. It will mark the first game between the two schools. The border city college is coached by a former Cal Poly athlete, Paul Platz. The Mustangs have one open date—Oct. 31.

The schedule:
Sept. 19—San Diego University at San Luis Obispo
Sept. 26—Montana State at Roseman, Mont.
Oct. 3—San Diego State at San Diego
Oct. 10—Eastern New Mexico at San Luis Obispo
Oct. 17—Long Beach State at San Luis Obispo
Oct. 24—Fresno State at San Luis Obispo
Oct. 31—Open
Nov. 7—Los Angeles State at Los Angeles
Nov. 14—Lewis and Clark College at San Luis Obispo
Nov. 21—University of California, Santa Barbara at San Luis Obispo

Women Basketball Begin Tournaments

Seven WAA basketball teams started the first of a series of tournaments Monday night which will end at the termination of the winter quarter.

"We got off to a good start," says WAA advisor Miss Catherine Lealle. "A large number of girls turned out and operating procedures ran smoothly to make our first tournament a success."

Game times are 6:45, 7:35, and 8:30; team captains are to notify players of the rotating schedule. The winning team members will receive individual trophies at the last tournament.

Miss Lealle and basketball manager Sandy Morganstern urge each girl to pay her 50 cents quarterly dues to enable WAA activities to continue.

Monday's results:
Oscadilla 7, Shady Ladies 3
Chase Cats 10, Heron 4
Jespersen 19, Chase Chasers 19

Madden Signs With Eagles

John Madden, 260 pound, two year letterman tackle for Cal Poly, said today he had signed a contract with the Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League.

The Redwood City, physical education major was the 18th draft choice of the Eagles last year.

Professional Canadian grid teams also were reported interested in obtaining the services of Madden.

Underdog Mustangs Play Bulldogs On Home Court

After dropping their first pair of league outings, but riding on an 8-4 season record, Poly basketball team hosts title hopeful Fresno State here tomorrow night.

Both teams will be hot to get back on the winning side of the ledger since the Mustangs dropped contests to Long Beach State, 58-45 and San Diego, 73-54, while Fresno was losing to Los Angeles State.

The defending champion Bulldogs are favored to win the title again this year. But, anything can happen when Fresno and Poly lock horns. Cage fans will have little trouble recalling last year's season finale when the cellar dwelling Mustangs forced the league leading Bulldogs into two overtime periods before dropping a one point decision to the title winners.

Fresno, ranked 13th among small colleges in the nation, thumped Wheaton College of Illinois 66-51 early this season when Wheaton was ranked number one. The Bulldogs also claim victories over University of Idaho, Montana State, U. of Nevada, and George Pepperdine College, also victors over Wheaton. The Fresnoans have dropped decisions to Idaho State College and Chapman.

Spearheading the Fresno attack will be 6'9" center, Gary Alcorn. In FSC's first 10 games the big pivot man averaged 14.8 points. Rounding out the Fresno quintet are Babe Williams, 11.5, and Dick Hendricks, 8 points per game, at guards, and Al Brown, 8, and Tom Gilcrest, 7.9, at forwards.

The Mustangs were held far below their usual points per game average of more than 68 points on the southern trip and will be out to regain that mark. They hit 15 percentage points less than usual on field goals connecting only 34 percent of the time and collected only 10 out of 19 free throws in the Long Beach game.

Jorgensen named his probable starters and point averages as Mal McCormick, 9.6, and Jerry Shackelford, 10.3, or Joe Rycraw, 8.3, at forwards, Bob Thetford, 8.0, center, and Vic DiGiovanni, 11.4, and Jim Clark, 8.9, at guards.

The Mustangs still remain among the top thirty teams in the nation in defense, having held opponents to an average of 55.3 points per game.

New Netters Needed; Report To Jorgensen

After losing three mainstays, Tennis Coach Ed Jorgensen will be looking for material at the first meeting, slated January 19 at 4 pm in his gymnasium office.

Cal Poly's first match probably will be the State College Tourney in Santa Barbara, March 6, 7, 8.

"Players are needed because of the heavy loss from graduation," explains Jorgensen, as he urges all interested to report at the Jan. 19th meeting.

game. There was nothing unusual or illegal about the procedure at the Gaucho game, nor any of the other games in which Hudson played.

The incident was brought to light by the Santa Barbara News-Press, daily newspaper. It said, "Investigation was reported under way today by a faculty committee to determine if illegal and possibly protective equipment had been used by a conference opponent against the University of California at Santa Barbara in a football game last season."

"Evidence that possible illegal hard arm casts had been used by an opponent at a La Playa Stadium game was turned up in a dressing room by local athletic officials, not connected with UCSB, after a Gaucho game, and such evidence was reported by university officials at the recent CCAA meeting in Santa Monica."

The paper went on to say that the cast had been found under a stack of towels and was the type recently outlawed by the NCAA. Also a faculty group is reviewing game films of the contest and reportedly will issue a statement within the next few weeks. University officials declined to name the college suspected but the college newspaper has named Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo.

The paper said "Athletic Director Willie Wilton would not comment on the investigation other than to say, 'If concrete evidence points to such use of illegal equipment with the full knowledge and consent of that school's staff, then there would be little left to do but sever athletic ties with such an institution.'"

Cal Poly Dean of Students Everett Chandler phoned Dr. Theodore Harder, former athletic director and now professor of physical education at Santa Barbara College and Vice President at large of NCAA, stating Cal Poly was administratively angry.

"This is a ridiculous situation. University officials should investigate before making such accusations public. We will present an affidavit to UC officials asking for the university to make a public statement clarifying the accusation."

Coach Hughes said, "The incident was brought up at the CCAA meeting in Santa Monica recently and answered. I thought, satisfactorily. I explained it personally to Ed Cody, Santa Barbara head coach, at the NCAA meeting in Cincinnati to his satisfaction. Cody did not attend the CCAA meeting."

"The way it's being handled reflects on my professional integrity, both as a coach and athletic director. Furthermore, when I have to resort to illegal equipment to win football games, I'll take a job delivering milk."

Editor:

"Viva La IBM Registration" (El Mustang 1/15/36) was well handled by your writer, and the Registrar's Office greatly appreciates the plaudits given. You and I would be remiss, however, if we did not elaborate and give proper credit where it belongs. It will be appreciated if you will inform the student body through your columns that the registration system's success to date was anything but the work of one individual.

Everyone knows, I'm sure, that registration is like any other activity in that it needs the cooperation of many persons if it is to succeed. The cooperative attitude of the class card representatives, the advisors, the admissions and records office, the division and department heads and indeed the students themselves was evident. These deserve to share the credit.

Your article is correct in pointing out that we still do not have a perfect system. If such a thing is possible it will come about not by the planning and work of a single individual or staff but through a combined effort involving the above mentioned persons and staff members. Each new registration brings new problems and we do not mind criticism of our handling of them. If any student has a constructive suggestion we welcome it. Were you to rewrite the El Mustang article, I would suggest you head it "Viva La Cooperation of Faculty, Staff and Students."

Sincerely,
Thomas Lambre,
Registrar

Doesn't Like 'em ...

Editor:

Three cheers for IBM and their nice little toys. It's a real boom to all of us. Those of us who registered this quarter are certainly glad that we didn't have to wait in the rain for an hour. Now why can't somebody change the system of "waiting"?

Prior to this system, nobody had to wait until late afternoon or evening to sign up for their classes. If they weren't in line at four in the morning, (such wonderful days) it was usually their own fault. If they got into the wrong line, it was probably because they either couldn't read or else didn't know their own name. These are to be the leaders of tomorrow's industry?

Draft Ends ...

Editor:

I would like to call attention to the fact that the Universal Military Training and Service Act, known to most of us as the draft law, expires June 30 of this year. Whether or not to continue this act is, I feel, a very important question.

So, I say to everyone and especially to those who are directly affected by this law, now is the time to study the issue. Look up some material on the subject in the library and discuss the matter with your friends. Do some thinking about the problem and then let your representatives in Congress know what you think should be done.

SAE Safety-Economy Run Course Told Here Today

Students entered in the Cal Poly Safety-Economy Run, in which some 50 students from here will participate Saturday, January 24, will drive over a route of 108.2 miles, it was revealed today.

Logged and routed through the combined efforts of the California Highway Patrol and sponsoring Society of Automotive Engineers (Cal Poly student branch), the course will start at Wall's Mobil station, corner of French Road at Highway 101.

By way of Los Osos Road, the course arrives at Morro Bay and then via Highway 466 and Highway 101 through Santa Margarita back to San Luis Obispo. Going through town on Santa Rosa, Marsh and Broad streets, the drivers reach Edna Road which puts them on their way to Arroyo Grande.

A loop first south and then back up coast from Arroyo Grande leads the run cars to Highway 1 again and to Oceano and Grover City.

Entering the freeway at Haley Road, Fair Oaks, the route travels through Pismo Beach beginning the last lap back to the starting point in San Luis Obispo.

The event, patterned after the annual Mobilgas economy run, is being sponsored by the Cal Poly student branch of the Society of Automotive Engineers. Offering technical assistance and supplying gasoline and trophies is General Petroleum Corporation. Also assisting in staging the run are the California Highway Patrol, local law enforcement officers, and the San Luis Obispo Kiwanis.

Each entrant will be judged on two counts: observance of all safety and traffic rules, and amount of gasoline used to negotiate the course. Adult observers, members of the Kiwanis, ride in each car to assess penalties for infractions of traffic and safety rules.

Each car must pass a rigid safety inspection by the California Highway Patrol before it is approved for the event. Entrants will be required to show evidence of adequate public liability insurance and a valid California operator's license.

Dragsters Roar As Top Drivers Vie for Prizes

Track records will again "go" this Sunday under the impact of roaring engines as top area drivers make tries for a $25 top eliminator prize at the San Luis Obispo County Timing Association drag races.

The Jan. 16 meet will be held at the SLO county airport, about one mile south of town.

Ernie Hashim of Bakersfield hopes to run his blown Chrysler dragster, which turned 174 mph this season, and Milt Alley and Herb DeWitt of Madera, who set a new track record at the December meet at SLO also plan to return for the January runs.

The new blown Olds dragster of Boerman-Adams-King, sponsored by Bruce's House of Sound in San Luis Obispo, will attempt to keep the "honors" at home.

Eileen Leppold, freshman Elementary Education major from Palm Springs, will be the trophy girl for the January meet. The Cal Poly Roadster Club Turtles are sponsoring her as the trophy girl.

Morning time trials are set for 10 a.m., while eliminations will start at 1 p.m. Along with the $25 top eliminator award, a watch will be given for the top time, and trophies will be given for all classes and for the best appearing car and crew.

A free steak dinner will be the prize for the noon Dinner Dash, a quarter mile spectator and pit crew foot race.

Young Farmers Seek Talent; Will Pay

The Young Farmers are still looking for talent! Any kind of talent! And they're willing to pay for it, $50 to be exact.

Young Farmers will present their annual talent show Feb. 5 in the A. C. Aud. Prizes will be cash awards—$25 for first place, $15 for second and $10 for third.

Any Cal Poly student may enter, according to Don Sandridge, publicity chairman. Students may sign up in the A.S.B. office.

Auditions will be held Jan. 26 in the A. C. Aud.

Proof of the "any kind of talent" offer are winners of the past two years. Last year Bill Nielsen won with a series of rope calypso group took honors.

Two brothers won the national collegiate individual boxing titles in 1937, but for different schools. Ron Hall of Idaho State took the 159-pound title while Dick Hall of Washington State won the 135-pound honors.

Army Official Inspects Poly ROTC Unit

Lieutenant General Charles D. Palmer, Commanding General of the sixth U.S. Army, arrived by plane yesterday to inspect Cal Poly's ROTC unit.

"His day began," said Col. Voehl, Head of the Department of Military Science and Tactics, "with a meeting to discuss the activities of ROTC and Cal Poly." He then proceeded to inspect the armory and visited two sophomore and senior military classes, where he questioned cadets individually as to the knowledge of their subject.

He concluded the day with a visit to the rifle range, located near the airport and a brief tour of the campus, departing for his headquarters at the Presidio of San Francisco late in the afternoon.

Indians Celebrate Tomorrow

Republic of India Day will be celebrated on campus tomorrow from 4 to 8 p.m., sponsored by the International Relations Club.

A gathering will take place in Lib. 114 where tea will be served and a movie will be shown.

California Poly and Nevada each with four points tied for seventh place in the 1935 NCAA boxing championships.

Tammy And The Bachelor In AC Aud. Tonight

Debbie Reynolds, Leslie Nielsen, and Walter Brennan star in this week's College Union movie, "Tammy and the Bachelor." This color film will be presented tonight in the A. C. Aud. at 7 and 9 p.m. Admission is by 10 cent donation and A.S.B. card.

"Tammy" is a delightful romantic comedy concerning a barefoot lass raised by her grandfather on a Mississippi houseboat. She unexpectedly encounters a sophisticated young bachelor and, armed only with her homespun philosophy, she soon finds herself facing for the first time the perils and puzzles of the so-called "life of the city."

Featured in his weekly appearance at the projectors will be Mary Pigoten, with Phil Ritterband at the cash box.

Many a girl would rather walk home than do without Camels. For the 10th straight year, this cigarette outsells every other—every filter, every king-size, every regular. The Camel blend of costly tobaccos has never been equalled for rich flavor and easygoing mildness. The best tobacco makes the best smoke.

CU Committee Plans Big Week Late This Month

College Union Week has been chosen as the week of Jan. 26 to Feb. 1 by the College Union Board, with every committee presenting an activity. Included among the events are a checker tournament, George Shearing concert, winter quarter play production, "Visit to a Small Planet," the weekly movie, "Bilk Atackings," and a possible tour to Hearst Castle. The College Union games and hobbies committee is sponsoring the checker tournament from Monday, Jan. 26 to Thursday, Jan. 29, between 6:30 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. in the T.C.U. Sign-ups for the tournament will begin Monday, Jan. 19, at the T.C.U. and on the C.U. bulletin board. Further information may be obtained by those interested from Mrs. Kay Williams, activity advisor, in the A.S.B. office. The games and hobbies committee is handling the arrangements for the tournament and Bob Lewis, T.C.U. manager, is in charge.

The assemblies committee is sponsoring one of the major student entertainment programs of the year on Wednesday, Jan. 28, when it brings George Shearing and his quintet to the Cal Poly campus. The Shearing concert will be in the A.C. Aud. beginning at 8:15 p.m. Tickets are now being sold in the A.S.B. office at $1 for A.S.B. card holders and $1.50 for non-card holders. All interested persons are advised to get their tickets early since the auditorium holds only 455 persons. Paul Sullivan, assemblies committee chairman, is in charge of the event.

"Visit to a Small Planet," by Gore Vidal, will be the first dramatic production of the school year and will be produced by the drama committee under the chairmanship of John Zacharias. Poly Players, the college dramatic club, is handling production aspects of the play, and John R. Banister of the English and Speech department is the director. The story concerns what happens when a slightly neurotic visitor from outer space lands in the back yard of a well known national T.V. newscaster's home in Manassas, Virginia. He's planning to arrive in time for the civil war, but lands instead in the present. Since he's missed one war he decides to start another, especially since we now have such wonderful playthings for modern warfare.

Tickets for the play are now being sold in the basement of the Adm. Bldg. (across from El Corral) and in the A.S.B. office. Price has been set at 75 cents for A.S.B. card holders and $1 for non-card holders. Production dates are Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Jan. 29, 30, and 31, at the San Luis Obispo high school auditorium with the curtain at 8:15 p.m.

at $1 for A.S.B. card holders and $1.50 for non-card holders (the general public) was passed after two amending motions were defeated. The first defeated amendment would have prevented the general public from attending the concert and the second would have raised the non-card holder or general admission price to $2.50.

Richard Seward of the S.A.E. presented a proposal for S.A.C. approval of a Cal Poly Safety Economy run. This event would be held in conjunction with General Petroleum Corporation and would be open to the entire student body. The contest, Seward stressed, was not a race but a test of safe driving practices and fuel economy. A motion approving the proposal and giving S.A.E. complete control over the contest was passed by the council.

Dave Kempf was approved by the council as the winter quarter editor of El Mustang. Dick Robben, A.S.B. secretary and chairman of the awards committee, presented two members of the awards committee for approval. Dan Kelly, representing the Sophomore class, and Jerry Gaynor, representing the Freshman class, received the council's vote of approval.

San Jose State won four of 10 individual boxing championships to win the 1958 national collegiate boxing team title.

Call Goes Out for Pawn Pushers; Tourney Set

The call is out for pawn pushers! Chess club president Don Lima announced that a five round chess tournament, open to all Cal Poly students and faculty will be starting Jan. 20.

Sign-ups for the event start today at noon in Cu R, and will continue through Monday and Tuesday. Entrance fee is 25 cents.

Lima said that any and all are welcome and he especially urges beginners to try-out. Prizes will be awarded the winners.

Officials of the tournament will be Chuck Gold, director, Don Lima club president, and Robert Andreini, English instructor and club advisor.

The do-it-yourself craze may be expanding, but looking at someone else's paper during an examination is still popular. —WBC Evergreen
